Church Etiquette, Respecting the House of the Lord: Unfortunately many of those who attend church for; Baptism, weddings and special occasion have little understanding of how to behave in church. This has become an ever increasing problem and we have been thinking for some time how we might address the issue. In consequence we have produced leaflets, which we hope to explain what is expected whilst at the same time underlining that everyone is welcome. These leaflets are to be distributed with the invitations that we send out at weddings and Baptisms. We have also had made some banners to display at the entrance to church.

If we are going to ask for a certain level of behaviour from these visitors, then it is important that we too strive to set an example by observing the standard laid out in the leaflet and for this reason we have distributed them to all our parishioners at Mass this weekend. Please let us do all we can to practice what is set out and thereby hopefully increase our own sense of reverence and respect for the House of God.
